The International Research Institute sro, our international forum of academics and researchers organizes the

IRI Conference on Culture, Society, Responsibility

Budapest, Hungary, 03rd – 04th December 2017
(Sunday-Monday)

The conference will be held in English

Papers are welcomed in areas of all humanities and social studies dealing with “problems”, and their “solutions” in different cultures and societies all over the world. Social responsibility is the main topic of our international conference from wide range of perspectives: not only in the sense of business (“corporate”), but also in the sense of responsibility in society, economy and politics. Culture, ethics, sociology, anthropology, philosophy, economics, psychology, education; as well as environmental protection, law, human resources, healthcare, quality management, marketing, logistics, production, finance, IT, strategy, etc., – both at social and individual levels, in their global and local meanings. In addition, we accept papers in corporate social responsibility (CSR), especially in topics of environmental efforts, philanthropy, and ethical labour practices.
